TERM 4

WEEK 8

Dear Parents,

Helpers' Morning Tea

A huge thank you to all our parent and community volunteers who help in some way at our school. The staff at Winston Heights appreciate all that you do and acknowledge your ongoing support. Thank you to those who were able to attend the morning tea yesterday.

Twilight Markets Tomorrow Evening

The winners for the Unlimited Rides wristbands have been drawn. We have a winner from each grade and we also had a K-6 draw with all the recent donations over the last week. In total, 8 children will be having a "ride free" night tomorrow evening. All winners will have their wristband ready to be collected at the Wristband Tent on the oval. Kinder – Ruqayah KL, Year 1 – Connor 1H, Year 2 – Archie 2G, Year 3 – Paige 3A, Year 4 – Leith 4J, Year 5 – Amelia S3S, Year 6 – Abigail S3S and our final K-6 draw was won by Adam 3/4P.

Raffle tickets need to be returned to the school office tomorrow morning at the latest. We need all ticket books, sold or unsold, returned, as the P&C have pre-paid for all the tickets this year. We need to know that they are all accounted for. There is a book seller prize on offer that will be drawn at 7:30pm before the main prizes are drawn. This will take place at the Chocolate Wheel Stall.

A massive thank you to all families who have donated items for all our stalls and to those who have donated their time to volunteer to help on the day and during the event. It looks like it will be even bigger than last year and we look forward to seeing you there enjoying yourselves and taking away some memories. A fundraising event like this is not possible without a dedicated team who have been organising this since March. Thank you Penny, Steve, Matt, Kylie, Kata and Gwen. All of whom have given so much of their time and efforts to this big project. On behalf of the students, staff and school community, I thank you.

Annual Presentation Assemblies

Next Wednesday 12th December 2018 we will hold our Annual Presentation Assemblies. Our first assembly will be at 9:15am-11:00am to acknowledge awardees from Years 3-6 for 2018. The K-2 Presentation Assembly will be from 11:30am-12:30pm and the Sports Assembly will be from 2-3pm.

Parents of awardees have been notified by mail and email. We ask that families keep this information quiet from their children so that they are surprised by their acknowledgement.

The Performance Band will be playing at both the 3-6 Assembly and the Sports Assembly. The Concert Band will play at the K-2 Assembly. Students in the Performance and Concert Bands should wear their band shirts, black trousers with black socks and black shoes.

Talent Quest

On our last day of term we will be holding our Annual Talent Quest, run by the SRC. A separate note has gone out about this with full details.

Staff Farewells

At the end of this school year Winston Heights will say farewell to some staff members. Mrs Thambyrajah has been providing learning support for the past few years and will say farewell. Mrs Tammy Wright, Mrs Sarah Pellazzari and Miss Jessica Bootes will also be leaving us at the end of the year. We thank them for their dedication and contributions to Winston Heights Public School and wish them all the best in their future endeavours.

Zone Trials 2019

Next year the Castle Hill PSSA will hold their trials for Zone sports on a special trial day early in the school year, instead of during after school sessions. The various sports will have specific times during the one day for invited students to attend and all at the one location. Parents will need to organise transport to and from the venue on that day. More details will be given to those students invited to trial for the Zone Sports.

School Uniform

All students need to continue to wear full school summer uniform to school on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Tuesday and Friday they need to wear full sport uniform. Even though we are coming to the end of the year children need to be wearing the correct uniform. This includes shoes and socks. Our school community values the way our students wear their uniform with pride and honour and it really is lovely to see all the students dressed correctly every day.

Last Day of Term 4

Our last day for students in 2018 will be Wednesday 19th December. Teachers will be at school on Thursday 20th December and they will be participating in professional development.

Kind regards,

Margaret Creagh
Principal

S3S love writing

Read these snippets from our favourite stories

Liam – The Dark Storm

Outside was dark, as a sudden boom roared across the sky. Then a flash of lightning cracked the darkness. The rain poured heavily, washing the boy's favourite toy truck down the street. The sun was drawn over with black clouds. The power was out in a flash. They snuggled up until the storm stopped. The boy held his little sister crying so he told her everything was okay.

Natalie/Pri/Abi – A Different Town

In a town far away from all others, a girl named Chila helped her abuela prepare the meal for her familia. As she wrapped the tortillas, she listened to her abuela singing, like her mama used to. She cherished these moments as she knew they don't happen often. A few months later, the war was cooking.....

Charlie/Shae – My Little Rusty Truck

Every morning, my sister and I would take a walk around the small town we lived in, my bare feet scraping around the rocky ground. Our eyes photographed the beautiful sight. We watched the dreamy sky become covered by sunlight, like a blanket. It brightened our day and put a smile on our faces.....

Tom – The Christmas Gift

On every Christmas wish list, all of Jess' friends would jot down the latest iphone or video game, as did every other kid growing up in the twenty-first century. However, for the past five years or so, Jess would ask Santa to deliver her a new puppy.

Jess' brother, Preston, also had been begging for one of man's best friends. He had dreams of being a famous dog trainer. He wasn't the most popular kid at school, though he did have a few close friends.....

Sophie – A Shadow of Blue

..... Suddenly sadness fills her body and her smile disappears. As her head drops, she sees the colourful pile of silky paper. The girl's hand rustles through the paper until she finds just the right colour. The choose a piece that was a mirror to the sky. Her skilful hand chose to fold and rip and tear until she made the most beautiful butterfly. She held it up into the air as if it could fly. Unfortunately her luck turned and a gust of wind stole the masterpiece of origami.....

Downpour

Clouds filled the sky like a cup of water. It started as a sprinkle, forming into a forced downpour. Thunder boomed and lightning crackled, waking people from their deep, deep sleep. Lightning struck a tree, causing it to warp and curl. Farmer's cattle ran a around the paddocks confused and the sheet bleated away in their pens.....

Aliyah – Lightning Electrified the Air

This is the worst one we've had yet. Listening to the roar of the night sky, I felt lonely. As the lightning slashed the black sheet above, the sound pierced my fragile ears. I peered out the glassy window, I heard the awful scream of my sister. Julie came sprinting into my dimly lit room. I comforted her by wrapping my arms around her tiny frame, repeating "It will be okay." We sat there, side by side, watching the commotion, as the clouds were fighting. I felt her frizzy hair against my resting arm, as she told me, "You're the best brother."

The storm had become even heavier, and the down pour was bucketing against the hard, dense ground. Suddenly a lightning bolt electrified the air a few hundred metres away. I rested my eyes and drifted off into a deep, deep sleep. I had to escape the terrifying nightmare outside.....

Jordan – Cyclone

The raindrops were like bombs on the roof. My family and I were huddled in the basement when I realised we had left our dog, Spot, upstairs. So I raced to get him and he ran into my arms and we all got back into the huddle. The wind was like a tornado and it ripped our roof off. The lights were still on for a little bit but a flash hit the power pole and the lights went out. We heard screams from next door. As we peeped out the tiny window, all we could see was that next doors house was on fire.....

Isabel – Escape the war

Dead silence as I sit at my father's funeral, drowned in an overflowing river of tears. I talk about my loving father and the last word he said to me.

"I love you buddy and I'm late for work. Have a good day."
I regret the decision to be negative and cruel to him as he says the same thing every week day.

I am unsure what I responded with but I know I will never see my father again. I hope he knows I love him too and it will never be the same without him. But he will always be my father from heaven forever.

Josh P – Alone in the Storm

Outside was dark. Suddenly a loud boom came from above. The lightning struck continuously as it frightened me. I watched clouds roll across the sky. There was no sight of sunlight that I could see. Viewing the storm outside, I was terrified as I was home all alone. I tried to pick up the phone to contact my mother. Where was she?

Lacey/sophie/angie – New World

On Monday 4th December my mother and father said goodbye to me. I had no idea why. My mum said to have fun and my new home and not to miss them too much. Why would they say that? I'm only going to my cage.

Will – Fire!

The vile smell of smoke filled my nostrils. That's how I knew it was coming. As the wooden door that leads out to the front creaks with the heat and opens, the smell becomes stronger, thicker. I pace towards the lush trees in front of our house growing suspicious. The temperature around me increases as I walk towards it. A faint crackling sound reaches my ears. I should turn back and warn my parents, but instinct keeps me going. I had to see it. Gradually, it becomes easier to see through the thick smoke. I take a few small steps, and then it becomes clear. A colossal fire crackles no less than ten feet away, making the deep blue of the sky blur with the haze and smoke

Georgia – Transfer

The ship had an overwhelming sense of darkness and despair like it was trying to pull me into an abyss of self-loathing and depression. I wasn't prepared to face the reality that terrorists had bombed my home. It's funny how I lived in the city of love when the criminals who destroyed my house had shown no mercy. In two hours the ship would leave for London and I would be waking up to the unknown world. I would call it my prison until I turned eighteen and left.

Priyella/Abi/Natalie

– A Different Town

After a trip of madness and sadness, Chila waited for her abuela's boat to return. She waited and waited, but it never came. Chila cried and cried as her abuela was the only person she could connect with. She knew her abuela would want her to keep going and move on, but she just couldn't for some reason. She sat sobbing for her abuela, more than she had done when her mama had died.

Leilani – A Shadow of Blue

A young girl sits alone on the old wooden bench watching a glorious butterfly that softly flutters past her. Her gorgeous golden eyes follow the butterfly that performs a dance, just for her. She looks up. The purple petals and the fluffy white clouds make her feel alive. Her beautiful red pigtails pull her hair back. That allows the sun to shine gracefully on her pale freckly face

Max J – Thunder Boomed

As the clouds painted the sky, the rain consumed the land. The thunder boomed and roared in the night sky as everybody froze in fear. Suddenly the rain seemed to pour sideways as the boy quivered in shock. The storm got louder as the clouds got darker. The homes destroyed one by one as the people evacuated to the nearest hill for safety....

Angie – My Puppy

That rainy afternoon my mama and I were walking to the store to get some groceries for tonight's family dinner. While we were walking back with grocery bags heavy in our muddy hands, our feet wet in drenched shoes from all the water we were stepping in, I caught a glimpse of a grey, brown animal shape. As I moved closer, the image became clearer. Right there, in front of my eyes was a petite puppy with cuts and grazes all over. I felt like I wanted to cry at the state the little puppy was in.

Abi/Natt/ Pri/ Charlie/Shae– Eve of the Storm

The horrendous storm started on Christmas Eve. As children and parents lay in bed, the clouds turned evil as the sky turned darker. Then the rain started bucketing down. The sky lit up as lightning tore through the atmosphere, sending bolts of energy to the Earth's surface.

As the little girl lay in her bed, she quivered in fear, tears running down her cheeks imitating the rain, dogs howled through the night creating echoes in the streets. The rain continued through the night slowly seeping into people's houses. She closed her eyes from the booming storm, she only ever thought would be a nightmare.....

Josh L– Away from Home

I woke up this morning to the smell of bacon and strawberries. I raced out of bed and into the kitchen. Mum was at the stove preparing breakfast along with Dad who was cutting the strawberries. I came up to my mum.

"Hey there bud," she looked at me, "You want some bacon?"

I grinned. She smiled and walked over to my food bowl. She knelt and scraped some bacon into my bowl.

"There you go." she said.

I whimpered in appreciation and tucked in to my tasty meal.

Amelia – The gift

..... Today was the 22nd, Natalie's birthday.

She dragged herself out of bed, still tired.

"Yes, it's my birthday!" Nat excitedly whispered to herself as she ambled out the door "Wow, fourteen, I feel so much older."

Natalie detected lights on in their living room. She expected a loud cheering cry of surprise but there was no noise. The room was muted.

Maybe her mum forgot it was Natalie's birthday. Maybe she'd gone out to get her present. She looked at her phone. No messages. Natalie ferociously started searching the room, then she heard a twig snap. She knew immediately the sound came from the backyard. Natalie ran to the entrance

Michelle – Escape

..... Her thoughts vanished as she heard a loud, distinct whooping sound. Faith slowly looked downstairs, listening carefully to the people talking below, but all she could hear was the grumbling sound of voices. Faith moved further and further down to hear more clearly. She peeped from behind the wall and saw her father, handcuffed. He was surrounded by five different policemen. Suddenly one of the officers pointed at Faith but said nothing. Her heart began to beat like a drum. She walked backwards but fell over a step. Her adrenaline was so high, that she didn't feel the pain.....

Matthew – A Shadow of Blue

..... The girl closed her eyes, feeling disappointed. Eventually her back consumed the warmth of the sun. She looked up amazed. There stood a pure white daisy in the glazing sunlight, just across the path. Her arm reached up, creating a long, dark shadow that stretched across the grass. The shadow opened her hand as if to pick the delicate flower.....

Maddie/Amelia – The Storm

Thunder BOOMED as it crossed the dark midnight sky. The clouds galloped across the painted heavens. The young school girl quivered in fear as the storm crept to meet its petrified prey. As the tap dancing rain spread across the dusty ground, it surrounded the minute cottage linked to the massive working farm

Max L Honey Production

People all around the world love to eat honey. Have you ever wondered how that sticky, delicious substance called honey is made?

The process of making honey starts with bees. Bees leave the hive and go in search of flowers to gather nectar.....

Lorenzo How volcanic eruptions occur

There are two types of eruptions. Grey eruptions are powerful and sudden. There is a type of cork in the crater, formed by hardened magma at the top of the chamber. When the pressure in the magma chamber is too high, the cork pops, shooting a pillar of ash up to 40 km into the atmosphere. Next the lava flows down the mountain and incinerates everything in its path. Lastly, about twelve hours after the initial explosion a grey mass called a pyroclastic cloud speeds down the mountain. It can be 700m tall and travels at 700kph, so there is no escape.

Idioms.Chris was sick as a dog. But after having fully recovered from his illness, he had a new lease on life. Chris took up work again, but his boss was a real pain in the neck. His boss new this was a dime a dozen. But after working hard, he used to go for a stroll, which did him a world of good. Just like that, he could recharge his batteries. After the walk he felt fresh as a daisy. After getting home from his walk, Chris had dinner. He used to eat fast food for dinner, but he kicked that habit and preferred to fix something himself. He knew "You are what you eat".

3/4P have been working in sculptures this term and making choices about the forms and techniques used to represent their subject. These sculptures are made using recycled materials, whereby students were given creative freedom. I hope you enjoy their masterpieces.

SRC Talent Quest

Winston Heights Has The X Factor!

The end of year Talent Quest will be held in the school hall between 9.20am – 1pm on Wednesday, 19th December. This is the last day of the school year. Students from K- 6 are invited to audition for the show. Children may sing, dance, act, play a musical instrument, tell jokes or present an interesting item that will entertain the crowd. The Talent Quest includes a variety of acts presented by individuals and group items.

Auditions for the Talent Quest will be held by each grade/group in Week 8 of this term. Each classroom teacher will let the students know the date and time for auditions. Children may bring a CD, other props or musical instruments on their audition day. Please label CDs with the student's name and the track name and number. Students do not need to wear costumes or special clothes for the audition but they should be able to describe to the teachers what they would wear on the day of the show. We encourage students to present one item for their audition. A small number of students may be included in an individual item and a group act.

The students who have auditioned successfully for the Talent Quest will be notified at the end of the auditions. Those acts selected for the show will receive a note with the running order for performances listing the approximate time for each item in the week before the Talent Show. Parents are most welcome to attend on the last day of school.
